GETTING TO COLLEGE STATION

Transportation to the Bryan/College Station Area

Students moving in to College Station can take a flight directly to College Station Easterwood Airport (CLL) or to nearby airports in Houston (100 mi), Austin (120 mi) or Dallas (210 mi). Students arriving at airports other than CLL should arrange additional transportation to College Station. Available options are described below:

- Purchase a flight from IAH (Houston) or DFW (Dallas) to CLL: This may cost around $100 if purchased ahead. You may want to check out websites such as http://expedia.com or http://travelocity.com.

- Reserve the Ground Shuttle from Houston: The cost for the Ground Shuttle is $26.99 and they will pick up students directly from IAH and drop them off at the airport in College Station. For an extra $6, they will drop you off at another location of your choice. See http://groundshuttle.net/ for details.

- Take Greyhound Bus: Students taking the bus to B/CS should be aware that they will need to take a taxi from the airport to the Greyhound bus station (which could cost about $40). Students should also be aware that Greyhound bus stations are generally located in parts of U.S. cities that can be unsafe even during the day. See http://www.greyhound.com/ for details.

- Use Campus Connector: This break shuttle service provides transportation to and from College Station, Dallas, Austin, Houston, and San Antonio. The shuttle only travels on specific dates for each University break period. Visit their website at http://www.breakshuttle.com/products/texas-a-m-university-break-shuttle.

Have you heard about our new social network for ridesharing? This partnership, led by Texas A&M in association with the Aggie Green Fund, Environmental Issues Committee and Zimride, lets students quickly and easily search for open seats or post rides of their own to share the costs of commuting: http://www.zimride.com/tamu.

Bryan/College Station Area Temporary Accommodations

International Students who arrive to the Bryan/College Station area and are still in search of housing should be sure to put the International Student Conference (ISC) and Resource Fair on their calendar! At the ISC Resource Fair, representatives from multiple off-campus housing accommodations will be present to meet with you, tell you about their properties and answer your questions. To sign up for this event, please visit the International Student Conference webpage for more details. See https://iss.tamu.edu/events/isc.asp for details. Also note that some international student organizations offer temporary housing to new students.
