The 2015 Distinguished Lecture Series will be on April 7-8, 2015. This year’s theme is health and sport management in the SEC. We have attracted a world-class line-up of top scholars and practitioners from SEC sports schools. There is something for everyone. This event will be held in Muddler Ballroom and free to the public. Please see our website for more details or for out-of-town speakers please make arrangements for overnight accommodations. We hope to see you there!

AGLS Sustainability Survey

A graduate student in the building is applying for an Apple Green Grant to distribute recycling bins and informational material on recycling on SEC campuses. For those of you that did not receive Paul’s story, in 2012 he was a winner in the National Music Portfolios and was invited to present at the American Music Education Association. He received an online Master of Music in Music Education and is working to spread the word about sustainability on SEC campuses.

We are seeking your help in this endeavor.

2. What is your educational and career goal?

If you are a member of the Department, please answer these questions.

1. Share your personal story to others and the community. Explain how your discipline or career goal has influenced them or surprised you. We appreciate these stories.

3. What is your educational and career goal?

You can take a free GRe test that will give you the most accurate score. It is very important that you look at the GRE website before you decide to download the practice test. This does not simulate the actual test. You can take the test two times before you graduate. The test is offered on a Saturday and Wednesday. You must register for the test at least one week before your desired date.
