

Put Your
Animal Science
Education To Work

As the largest and most prominent department of its kind in the country, the Texas A&M University Department of Animal Science trains its students to become leaders in their field. The Animal Science degree arms students with a dynamic and broad education that prepares them for an exciting and rewarding career in a variety of areas.

Visit us at <http://animalscience.tamu.edu>.

Career opportunities with bachelor's degree

County Extension agent

Vocational agriculture teacher

4-H education and training

Farm manager

- Beef, dairy, horse, swine

Animal care supervisor

- Veterinary hospitals/clinics

Humane animal care services

Animal health companies

University/government laboratories

Laboratory research technicians

- State and federal government

Drug and pharmaceutical companies

- Management
- Technical services
- Sales

Feed companies

- Purina Mills

Retail feed and garden stores

Manage ranches, farms, feedlots

Manage research farms and facilities

Laboratory animal management

Manage livestock sales, distribution, and marketing systems

Manage training and boarding facilities

Dairy, meat and seafood technical assistants

Quality control, processing and packaging of foods

Milk, feed, food testing services

Inspection and grading services for meat, milk, eggs and wool

Livestock marketing

Science writer/illustrator

Agriculture journalist

- Editor
- Writer
- Advertising
- Field representative
- Artist

Livestock management services

Breed association representative, sales, and promotion

Government regulatory agencies

Livestock equipment representative and sales

Livestock investment firms

Finance

- Banks
- Production credit associations

Farm and ranch real estate

Import/export broker

Product application sales and services

Manager of stud farms, livestock and poultry operations

Artificial insemination companies

Herdsperson, artificial insemination and embryo transfer

Direct livestock associations and societies

Individual Proprietor

Employers who hire ANSC graduates

- Pharmaceutical Companies
- Animal Feed Companies
- Animal Shelters
- State/Federal Government
- Colleges/Universities
- Laboratories
- Environmental Agencies
- Nature Centers
- Zoos & Aquariums
- Farms
- State/National Parks

Opportunities with advanced education

Master's and doctorate degree Meat and food scientist

- University research, teaching, and Extension
- Quality Control
- Research and development

Nutritionist

- University research, teaching, and Extension
- Feed companies
- Drug and pharmaceutical companies
- Consulting

Reproduction Specialist

- University research, teaching, and Extension
- AI Organizations
- Embryo transfer labs

Breeding (Genetics)

- University research, teaching, and Extension

Stallion analyst

Breed Associations

Management systems

- Livestock organizations
- Consultants

Computer management systems

International

- Research scientist
- Consultant
- Administrator ethology (animal behavior) specialist

US government

- Meat inspection

Consulting

- Feedlots
- Drug and pharmaceutical companies

Health management

University research

Teaching and Extension

International

Professional school programs

- Veterinary medicine
- Dental
- Medical
- Allied health